LARGE PLANE
CRASHES INTO SNOWY MOUNT

Moran, Wyo., Nov. 22 — (P) — Four skilled mountaineers started at daybreak climbing cloud-shrouded Mount Moran in search of a missionary plane that disappeared near the peak last night with 21 persons aboard.

Forest Ranger Blake Van de Water and three ski-shod Alpinists started trudging through snow toward a spot where watchers last night saw a huge fire. Heavy clouds cloaked the scene this morning. Winds of 30 to 40 miles an hour whipped the area but there was no snow fall. The temperature is around freezing.

Only faint hope was held by Forest Service officials that there were any survivors if the plane crashed and burned on the mountain. The four mountaineers carried radio and light signaling equipment but it was expected to take them six to eight hours to reach the scene of last night's fire.

A resort owner said he saw a burning fuselage in the flames far above timberline on the precipitous east face of the mountain. When the fire subsided, he could see nothing resembling a campfire.

The missing plane was bound from Chico, Calif., to Billings, Mont. owned by the New Tribes Mission, a religious organization, it was on the last leg of a flight to South America.

Passengers included two young mothers with their children, widowed in the crash of another mission-owned plane in Venezuela last June which killed 15. Also aboard was Dr. Paul W. Flemings of Chico, Missions director.

The new, twin-engine DC-3 last reported by radio over Idaho Falls, Idaho, at 3:45 P. M. E. S. T. That is 50 miles west of here. The plane was due at Billings at 6:30 P. M.

It was about that time that residents of this picturesque area 25 miles south of Yellowstone Park heard a plane overhead. It was far off usual air lanes. And (Turn to Page Eighteen)

Pittsburgh, Nov. 22 — (P) — Pittsburgh public school teachers and other school workers will get an $825,000 annual pay boost January 1. The Board of Education yesterday voted teachers $200 a year more, elementary school principals $275 and high school principals $300. All other employees receive five per cent except certain hourly rated employees who will get about 10 per cent.

Robust Thanksgiving Dinner Planned
For U. S. Armed Forces in the Far East

Washington, Nov. 22 — (P) — The Army said today that a robust Thanksgiving dinner will be served at regular stations of the U. S. armed forces in the Far East and at field kitchens extending to within a few thousand yards of the front lines in Korea.

The menus, an army spokesman said, will be followed as nearly as possible throughout the Far East command, is: Shrimp cocktail, ery, roast turkey with sage dressing, giblet gravy, cranberry sauce, snowflake potatoes, candied sweet potatoes, fresh garden peas, whole kernel corn, waldorf salad or lettuce with thousand island dressing, ice cream, pumpkin pie, mince meat pie, fruit cake, parker house rolls, bread and butter, candy, mixed shelled nuts, fresh fruit, coffee and fruit punch.

Front line troops to whom it is impossible to serve hot foods on the holiday were promised feasts as soon as possible thereafter.

The Quartermaster Corps estimated that 15,000,000 pounds of turkey will be available for Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's dinners in the armed services at home and abroad.

It said it began buying them last May to be sure of getting a supply to the troops in remote areas in time.

WORKMAN KILLED

Springdale, Nov. 22 — (P) — Falling coal killed miner Andrew J. Cutler, 46, of Springdale yesterday. Cutler was an employee of the Consumers Mining Company of Homestead.

Spokesman Says Coalition In Congress Will Have Working
Majority of Over 45 Votes

Washington, Nov. 22 — (P) — A working majority of at least 45 votes was claimed today by a spokesman for the Republican-southern Democrat coalition expected to dominate the house in the next congress.

And across the capitol, southern Democrats were reported lining up behind Senator McFarland (D-Ariz) for majority leader in the new senate.

The move—disclosed by a Dixie lawmaker who asked not to be named—indicated that southern senators intend to take full advantage of the strengthened position given them by election defeats of northern and western Democrats.

The estimate of GOP-Southern Democrat strength in the house came from Rep. Arends of Illinois, the assistant GOP floor leader. While a coalition has been effective there in recent years, the elections gave it added strength.

Arends told reporters the coalition does not propose simply to block portions of President Truman's domestic program and to take a close look at foreign programs. It will offer "constructive" plans of its own, he said.

In the new house convening in January, there will be 199 Republicans, 235 Democrats and one Independent. That represents a drop in Democratic strength of 27 votes from the present line-up.

But of the 235 Democrats, about 100 hail from the south, and most southerners have been cool to the president's legislative program.

Arends put at 240 votes the "rock bottom" strength of the anti-administration group in the new house. A house majority is 213 votes.

Southern senators' backing for McFarland as floor leader apparently is based primarily on the fact that he voted with them against breaking a filibuster which shelved the Fair Employment Practices Commission (FEPC) bill in the present congress.

With that exception, McFarland is acceptable to President Truman's followers among senate Democrats and thus would not be as inviting a target for administration attack as some southerner might be.

The present Democratic leader, Senator Lucas of Illinois, was defeated for reelection.

BUSINESS MAN DIES

Butler, Nov. 22 — (P) — Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon for George A. Worrall, 81, prominent Butler wholesale grocer, who died yesterday in his Butler home after a long illness. Worrall was co-founder and president-treasurer of the firm of Lee-dom and Worrall, wholesale grocers. A native of Chester Hill, Ohio, Worrall began his wholesale grocery career in Marietta, O., coming to Butler in 1904.

FIRE IN PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, Nov. 22 — (P) — Fire drove a dozen tenants from a three-story apartment house into freezing yesterday at Stanton and North Euclid avenue, east end. Flames starting in the basement spread quickly but tenants were warned by janitor William Mauney and escaped. Fire Chief William H. Davis estimated damage at $90,000.

First Snowfall Brings Warnings From
Officials To Motorists To Use Caution

In the wake of the city's first heavy snowfall yesterday came warnings from both city and state police for motorists to drive with extreme caution because of the slippery conditions of the streets and highways.

Cinder crews were pressed into service throughout the district, and in Warren, the borough work crews tried out a new device for spreading salt on ice-coated pavements.

Dinner Cost Less This Year Professor Says

Pittsburgh, Nov. 22 — (P) — Your turkey dinner this year will cost you less than it did in 1948, says Reuben Slesinger, University of Pittsburgh economist.

Slesinger said turkeys cost three to six cents a pound less than in 1948 and twenty-cents less than in 1949.

The average worker earning $1.60 will have to work 1 1/2 hour less to earn a 10-pound turkey this year than in 1948, Slesinger calculates.

California Flood Loss Estimated At
Over $20,000,000

By The Associated Press
Two north central California areas today faced new threats from avalanches of muddy, debris-filled flood waters that had begun a general recession elsewhere in California and Nevada.

The floods have caused at least nine deaths and more than $20,000,000 damage in three days.

Army engineers warned residents along the Sacramento river between Sacramento, Calif., and its mouth to watch for possible levee breaks as the crest of the combined Sacramento and American rivers surges downstream.

The second danger area was near Modesto, where runoff waters from the Don Pedro dam are expected to invade lowlands and residential areas today. The dam filled yesterday and 26,000 cubic feet of water a second are still flowing into it.

General relief seemed to be at hand, however.

The U. S. Weather Bureau in San Francisco reported "the excessive rainstorm is ended." The bureau predicted generally fair weather over northern and central California today.

Reno faced a tremendous clean-up job.

The waters of the rampaging Truckee river are once again retained by their banks after a 12-hour flood termed "the worst in Reno's history" by the mayor. Most of the $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 damage was done in Reno.

FAMILIES SPENDING MORE THAN INCOME

Washington, Nov. 22 — (P) — More than a third of the nation's families spent more than they took in last year, managing to get by chiefly on credit, the federal reserve board reported yesterday.

Most of them were in lower income brackets, the board said, adding that families in the top tenth in income piled up more savings than all other families put together.

WAVES OF SUPERFORTS BLAST
RED BASES IN NORTH KOREACHINA'S CASE
AGAIN BEFORE
UN ASSEMBLY

Lake Success, Nov. 22 — (P) — Britain and the United States lined up in opposite camps again today on the question of investigating Nationalist China's charges of Russian aggression.

The U. N. assembly's 60-nation political committee, resuming debate on the issue, may decide it before the day is over.

Nationalist China's T. F. Tsiang presented his case yesterday. He charged that the Kremlin not only engineered the Chinese Civil War, but now has 45,000 agents in China controlling all political, economic and cultural life.

Tsiang proposed that the U. N. set up a fact-finding commission to look into the situation and report back to the assembly next fall. His plan found little support except from the United States, which agreed the problem should be studied by some sort of commission.

Russia demanded that the entire question be thrown out as unfit for discussion. Soviet Delegate Jacob A. Malik said Nationalist China already is headed for the "historic scrap heap."

Britain agreed that it would be useless to inquire into what happened in China. British Delegate J. E. Coulson said the facts are not really in dispute and added: "Our opinions won't be changed."

Britain is one of the 17 U. N. members which have recognized Red China. For this reason, she frequently finds herself at odds with the United States on Chinese problems.

"Anything that embitters the Far Eastern situation cannot do anything but harm," Coulson said. Faris El Khoury of Syria also expressed the belief it would be useless to create a fact-finding commission.

Eighteen Reported
Dead In Railroad
Wreck In Canada

Edmonton, Alta., Nov. 22 — (P) — Rescue teams dug today for missing victims in the splintered wreckage of two trains which crashed head-on yesterday 312 miles west of Edmonton. Eighteen persons — including 14 Korean-bound Canadian soldiers — were believed dead, and 53 others were injured.

The bodies of 12 soldiers have been recovered, but searchers still probed beneath the debris for two other soldiers and four trainmen — the engineer and fireman aboard both locomotives. Most of the injured were railway employees.

Twenty-two of the injured were reported in a serious condition. One train, carrying 340 officers and men, was bound for Fort Lewis, Wash., where 10,000 Canadian soldiers will be trained to fight with United Nations forces in Korea.

The troop train, running slightly behind schedule, and a Transcontinental Limited collided on a mountain curve on the main line of the Canadian National Railways. They were near a siding at Canoe river, British Columbia, where they were scheduled to pass.

The crash occurred in a lonely, snow-covered stretch of country 83 miles west of Jasper, Alta. Both trains were travelling at reduced speed, but there was a half-foot of snow on the ground and the temperature was near zero.

As the 17-car troop train and the 10-car limited collided, cars from both trains spilled off the tracks, ripping up the right of way and tearing down communications lines.

Arrangements Complete For Christmas
Lighting Ceremony and Parade Friday

Arrangements are now complete for the "Christmas Lighting Ceremony Parade" which will take place on Friday afternoon.

The parade, which is being staged in connection with the official opening of the Christmas shopping season in Warren, emphasized in this thirty-page special edition of the Times-Mirror, will form at 3:30 Friday afternoon, in Franklin street facing south, right resting on Pennsylvania avenue.

After the lighting ceremony is conducted at that intersection by Santa Claus and Burgess Crossett, the parade will move at 4:00 p. m., the line of march being, west on Pennsylvania Avenue to Market street intersection, West on Pennsylvania Avenue to Liberty street, North on Liberty to Third, West on Third to Poplar, South on Poplar to Pennsylvania Avenue, east on Pennsylvania Avenue to Second Avenue, and disband.

Lighting ceremonies will be conducted at each intersection along the line of march. The formation of the parade will be as follows: Ben Kinneer, chairman of the Retailers Committee of the Chamber of Commerce riding in a motorcycle side car, next an open car containing Burgess Wm. F. Crossett, Santa Claus, Chamber of Commerce President F. E. Krieshauser, Ed Lowrey, editor of the Times-Mirror and Nat Drake, Chamber of Commerce secretary.

Next in line will be the Warren High School Band, followed by members of the Chamber of Commerce Retailers Committee. Following the retailers will be members of the Electrical Workers' Union, Locals 174 and B1124, A. F. L., this organization having made possible this year such comparison to the same period last year.

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the new hospital building are scheduled for Monday afternoon, Dec. 4, at 2 o'clock. Miss Fannie Smith, a member of the hospital's first board of trustees, will take part in the program.

Another larger ceremony is being planned for a later date when the cornerstone for the new building will be laid.

BAVARIA TO VOTE

Frankfurt, Germany, Nov. 22 — (P) — The biggest state in the American zone of Germany votes next Sunday in an election that could decide the fate of American plans to rearm western Europe in the near future. The voters of Bavaria elect a new state parliament. The results may determine whether western Germany will take part in the defense of Europe against Russia. Two large German states gave a ringing "no" to rearmament in similar elections last Sunday.

Lack of Preparation Blamed On High
Number of Failures In Driver Tests

Harrisburg, Nov. 22 — (P) — Lack of preparation is forcing an unprecedented number of rejections in examinations for automobile operators' licenses.

Col. C. W. Wilhelm, state police commissioner, said today the ratio is one failure for every four persons who take the test.

The first eight months of 1950 saw 86,643 persons fail to pass examinations for drivers' licenses, an increase of more than 13,500 in

SECOND BLOW
IN A WEEK AT MUSAN AREA

By The Associated Press

Soul, Nov. 22 — (P) — B-29 bombers blasted Communist staging bases in Northeast Korea today as infantry patrols probed along the entire front to find where the Reds plan to make a stand.

Waves of superforts rained 140,000 pounds of high explosives on the Musan border area while other B-29s struck the port of Chongjin, 45 miles to the southeast. It was the second strike in a week at Musan.

North Koreans are reported reorganizing and Chinese Reds concentrating at Musan to block the United Nations march toward the Soviet Siberian border.

Musan is 80 miles northeast of Hyesanjin, where U. S. Seventh Division troops raised the U. N. blue and white flag Tuesday on the Yalu river opposite Red Manchuria. Other Seventh Division infantrymen went hunting for a fight with two Communist battalions reported to be holed up 10 miles southwest of Hyesanjin.

Department of Defense casualty lists released today include the names of two area men, army personnel and both wounded in action in Korea: Cpl. James E. Keppel, Jr., son of James E. Keppel, 421 Second avenue, Corry; and Cpl. Elmer E. Pudasak, son of Mrs. Tonka A. Pudasak, Wilcox.

General MacArthur's war summary in Tokyo reported:

"United Nations forces continued to advance generally along the entire Korean battle front yesterday (Tuesday)."

Here's the way the front looked from east to west:

East coast—Eight inch guns of the U. S. cruiser St. Paul paved the way for the Republic of Korea (ROK) capital division pursuing "a retreating disorganized enemy" toward Siberia.

Manchurian border—The Seventh Division's 17th Regimental Combat team dug in around Hyesanjin. It reported no sign of enemy activity on either side of the 100-yard Yalu river which divides Korea from Red China's Manchuria.

Most U. S. Cities Far From Ready To Deal With Atomic Attack, Study Shows

Washington, Nov. 22 — (P) — Most U. S. cities are far from ready to deal with an atomic attack.

And many city officials blame the federal government—along with public indifference—for the lack of preparedness.

These two main conclusions emerged today from a 137-city civil defense study undertaken by the American Municipal Association, made up of city and town officials.

The coast-to-coast picture shaped up this way:

On paper, our A-bomb defenses look pretty good. Special organizations have been set up, some emergency workers trained, stocks of detailed plans prepared.

But almost all city officials say frankly that if an A-bomb fell today, they'd be nowhere near ready to care for the wounded, bury the dead, put out the fires and try to restore order.

Preparedness estimates vary greatly. Little Rock, Ark., says it's five percent ready. Camden, N. J., figures 10 percent prepared. Other estimates at random: San Diego, Calif., 30 percent; Atlanta, Ga., 10 percent; Dallas and Ft. Worth, Texas, about 50 percent.

"Cities are handicapped most," the survey said, "by the absence of a check list or bill of particulars" (Turn to Page Eighteen)

Program of Vaudeville To Be Presented Saturday As Benefit For Canteen Fund

Plans are now complete for the return of old fashioned vaudeville to Warren this Saturday evening at the Woman's Club when eight acts of fine entertainment will be presented for the benefit of the Community Youth Canteen.

The show is sponsored by the Jaycees in cooperation with the Youth Canteen committee and proceeds will be used to help complete the canteen building at the rear of the YMCA.

Heading the list of visiting performers is Bob Kline from Indiana. Pennsylvania who will present his beautiful sand painting act. Many persons have never seen such an act before and they are in for a pleasant surprise when Kline creates beautiful pictures with sand in full view of the audience.

The Tillotson sisters will also be presenting their act for the first time in Warren. These girls who come from Corry started singing five years ago and since then they have been featured in many nightclubs in northwestern Pennsylvania. Their latest booking is in the Gay Nineties Review for the Elks Club in Corry and they have sung for the openings of several new clubs, including the Elks in Oil City. The girls were recent finalists on the Horace Heidt program, doing both solo work, duets, comedy and dance routines.

Poppleton, the Clown Prince of Magic, was scheduled to appear on the Parade of Magic, last year but was unable to come because of conflicting dates. He will present his highly polished act of magic in pantomime which has made him a favorite in this area. Poppleton lives in Lakewood, N. Y.

Dick Rapp is well known in Warren as director of the Rapp Dance Studio and his partner, lovely Nancy King is his star pupil. Dick traveled for several years with the Clair Tree Major Children's Theater and later for the Schuberts in their musical productions. He has created a new routine for his part in the vaudeville show.

Janet Gully was discovered a year ago when she appeared in a Players Club Mardi Gras production. She has had considerable experience in night clubs and is presently a student at Ohio Wesleyan University. Her impersonations are truly perfect and her blackface routine will be a highlight of the evening.

The Kordon Kids will prove a delight to those who have never seen them perform. The more than 20 youngsters in their attractive costumes will be under the direction of Dorothy Engstrom and Ben Huckabone. Although organized only a short time, the orchestra has won praise from many communities where they have appeared.

For sheer comedy the Vaude-vill Show is presenting the famous satire "If Men Played Cards As Women Do." Taking part in this one act farce are Monty McClure, Dave Smith, Chuck Tranter and Paul Meyers, all active members of local theatrical productions.

The committee expects on Friday to announce another out of town performer who will put the finishing touches on an already highly entertaining production.

The seating capacity of the auditorium is only 500. For this reason the committee hopes those wishing to attend would purchase their tickets immediately. The proceeds will go to the youth canteen committee so that the canteen building can be completed and an active program for the young people can be started this winter.

Carols Add Much to Joys of Yuletide

Music is important in the lives of our children. At Christmas time parents and teachers can help enrich the lives of children by teaching them carols and perhaps joining in a family chorus.

Making living worth while, says Mrs. Frank Kelly, music chairman of the Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers, is an immediate need of childhood. Writing in the Kentucky Parent-Teacher, she says:

"Making living worthwhile... is an idea that must be planted early and tended carefully through all the growing years. And so, from the first day he enters the public schools, the child is given not only the practical tools of communication and barter-reading, writing and arithmetic—but also the keys to better ways of living. For his bodily health there is physical education; for his understanding and adjustments to the world in which he lives, there are the sciences, natural and social; and for his emotional and spiritual development, there are the fine arts."

"Of all the arts music, perhaps, (Turn to Page Twenty-Two)

Some Suggestions For The Yule Decorations

By ANNE LARSEN
NEA Staff Writer

If you aren't fired with enthusiasm over the idea of bedecking your home with the same old weary decorations left over from last Christmas, try something new and different this year.

One idea, contributed by Peter Hunt, whose sprightly designs are leaders in the field of American folk-art, is a wooden chandelier to brighten your living room.

This is created from nothing fancier than an old wagon wheel, from which the spokes have been removed, a couple of pieces of wood, plywood and four discarded drawer pulls.

Suspend in the center of the wheel a stylized Christmas tree which can easily be cut from plywood with a power or coping saw. At the bottom of the wheel, attach two narrow planks crossed at right angles. These will support the drawer knobs, which have been hollowed out to hold candles, and stylized angels which have also been sawed out of plywood by the home handy-man.

To decorate your Yuletide chandelier, apply enamel in the various colors you choose, using the basic Peter Hunt stroke. This is a simple brush mark in the shape of a tear-drop. Start the stroke with the brush flat, then gradually lift it until only the tip of the bristles touch. Curve the tail for scalloped effects. Once these fundamentals are mastered, you can combine the strokes for more complicated designs.

To dress up your table this year, make a centerpiece featuring a Snowman Santa and his pack.

Begin with a cardboard cone 12 inches high. Around it wind crushed folds of white crepe paper, pasting as you go, to build up Santa's plump body.

You shape his figure with a long two-inch strip of white crepe paper, winding this in such a way that the underpadding is pulled in at waist and neck. The Santa should resemble a rotund snowman at this point.

To give him a snowy effect, cover him with crepe paper which has been crushed between your finger tips. Arms are made of tissue, covered with crepe paper, beard and mustache are also fashioned of white crepe paper.

Paint on eyes and mouth, and from red crepe paper make a tiny ball for the nose, mittens, cap and scarf. The scarf is fringed and trimmed with white stripes. A green crepe-paper belt and a jaunty candy cane complete his outfit.

Santa's pack is green crepe paper gathered into a bag-effect at top, and shaped at the bottom with a six-inch circle of cardboard pasted on the inside.

Santa To Be Given Police Escort Friday

All the little friends of Santa Claus are going to be happy to hear that Santa Claus is coming to Warren Friday, November 25th, and will be in Metzger - Wright's Toyland. Santa is coming part way by his own plane and the rest of the way by automobile.

So that he will have the right of way coming into Warren, he is going to be met at the Glade bridge by a member of the Warren Police Department and escorted west on Pennsylvania Avenue to Liberty street and then to Metzger-Wright's Second Street entrance from where he will be rushed by elevator to the fourth floor where he will sit on his throne and talk to all his little friends.

Santa is most anxious to learn early what each little one wants for Christmas so that he can make out his list of gifts for them.

First Lutheran Is Collecting Clothing

Members of First Lutheran parish, busy all year round with the project of collecting good used clothing for the Lutheran World Action program overseas, are making a special effort this Thanksgiving time to increase their gifts for those less fortunate of other lands.

Shipments of clothing, bedding and other supplies are sent regularly to the overseas distribution centers but word from directors of the program indicate that approaching winter's cold has greatly increased the need and all help is gratefully received. Much of the material collected is being used at present for refugees from Communist-ruled and occupied areas coming in the tree zones.

Any members of the parish and interested friends in the community wishing to donate articles to the collection may leave them in the Third Avenue entrance to the church, it is announced.

Most Homes and Hospitals In Area Planning Turkey Dinner; Baskets Will Be Distributed

Extensive preparations for the observance of the Thanksgiving Holiday in all institutions of the borough and county are under way according to reports received at the Times-Mirror office.

Turkey and trimmings in traditional menus will be served at Warren General Hospital, the Hoffman Children's Home, the Watson Home and at the Ruth M. Smith Home in Sheffield.

At the Rouse Home in Youngsville, chicken will be the feature item, along with cranberries and pumpkin pie. Prisoners at Warren county jail will also enjoy a chicken dinner.

At Warren State Hospital turkey and trimmings with a choice of pumpkin or mince pie is on the menu. Movies will be shown both morning and afternoon, hospital officials said.

The Salvation Army will distribute 10 baskets to hungry families on their list, and another group busy with Thanksgiving plans is the Warren Relief Association. Directors of that agency are planning their usual holiday food orders for families under their care.

No special program has been planned at any other institutions except the Hoffman Home, where children who do not take dinner with relatives expect to attend the Labarre Theater to see a Shirley Temple picture. Money for this purpose has been provided by the Warren Rotary Club.

As usual, all federal, state, county and municipal offices will be closed. There will be no mail delivery except for special delivery pieces, and postoffice windows will be closed for the day. State liquor stores will also remain closed all day.

General closing will be observed by banks and stores although many stations and restaurants expect to be open for business as usual.

Oldster Is Getting Break With Boys Going Into Service

New York—(AP)—The oldster is getting a break. It seems there's a labor shortage developing, and younger workers are going into the armed forces or defense production jobs.

Companies who thought a man was washed up at 60—said he was unshirable after 40—are suddenly discovering that the oldster has virtues of skill, experience and executive talent.

"Don't apologize for growing old—many persons are denied this privilege," the controllers institute today reminds its members who are looking for a job once more.

The 40-plus club of Connecticut engaged in finding its members new jobs, says that since the Korean war many companies are turning to hiring older men, since they fear loss of younger key personnel to the armed forces or to defense jobs.

The office of defense manpower says a labor shortage is developing and the labor department is planning a training program for industrial plants to get the skill needed for arms production.

The older age brackets, however, offer a large reservoir of already trained ability. The Census Bureau reports that 12.3 per cent of the men and 13 per cent of the women in the country are over 55. There are 11.5 million persons over 60—one out of every 13 in the country—and both the number and the percentage are growing. There may be 20 million in that age group by 1980.

A bumper crop of the very young is coming along. But the age groups on which the military draw, and to which industry normally looks for replacements—the 15 to 35 range—have been growing very little, if at all. In fact, there are two million less in the 15 to 19 group than 10 years ago (that was the depression's short crop of babies).

One active campaigner against early retirements is Elmer H. Bobst, president of Warner-Hudnot, Inc. He advocates putting persons over 65 on half-time, rather than retiring them. He says they will live longer when they have an interest in life—not to mention the easing of the strain on the nation's economy.

Perfume Available In Interesting Containers

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

It's become, by now, a rule of thumb that no cosmetic dare be a candidate for Christmas giving while looking like perfume, cologne, bath powder or lipstick.

One perfume, for example, comes in a medal-shaped bottle draped in 24-carat gold plate, suspended from a bright presentation ribbon.

Or, there's wafer perfume put up in a mother-of-pearl miniature perfume compact with a rhinestone center. It dangles from a snake chain and becomes, therefore, a bracelet.

Perfume is also available this Christmas in solid form in a gilded filigree perfume ball with pin attachment to burn in an electric perfume burner which is brand new this Christmas. The burner is in polished bronze and resembles a miniature skillet. A separate heating element is on a footed stand.

Soap, if it's 12 cakes in a box and therefore one bar of fragrance for each month in the year, is a gift which will appeal to any woman. Bland and hand-milled, these guest size cakes are in a white box with cover trimmed in gold-and-white lace.

Then, there's a Christmas tree cologne packed in hollyherry red and patterned with a white, etched tree, and there's a cologne in a white snow ball, festively trimmed in blue.

Stocking stuffers include a stocking in glittering fuchsia net with snowy fluff top and toe which holds perfume essence, a bar of hand-milled soap and a tube of talcum. There's a lip-stick centered in a rocket made of white marabou and tipped with colorful, shiny foil. There's also a black and gold pencil case which holds a lipstick at one end and an applicator bottle of perfume at the other.

Retail Spending Is Zooming Upward to Set a New Record

Washington—(AP)—Consumer spending shot up by an unprecedented $13,200,000,000-a-year rate during the July-September period to reach a record annual volume of $198,400,000,000, the commerce department reported.

The mass assault on retail counters netted a $14,400,000,000 spurt in the gross national production—total output of goods and services—to an historic high of $284,500,000,000.

It came close to the $300,000,000,000 a year total output goal President Truman last January spoke of attaining "within five years," but there was a hitch in it.

The president said he meant $300,000,000,000 worth of goods and services valued at the prices prevailing at the start of 1950. Much of the $30,500,000,000-a-year rise since then has been due to increased prices.

The commerce department said, in fact, that one-third of the $13,200,000,000 jump in consumer spending in the third quarter of this year, compared with the previous quarter, "stemmed from higher prices."

Purchases of greater quantities following the outbreak of the Korean war on June 25 accounted for the other two-thirds of the increase, but the department saw a price angle in that, too.

Optional equipment, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities due to shipping charges. All prices subject to change without notice.

It would be easy to let the breathtaking power, the luxurious ride and the gleaming good looks of a Buick sweep you off your feet.

And once you've sampled the sweet response of Dynaflex Drive*—you feel a big lack in anything else.

But let's be practical about all this.

What does it cost to buy—and to own—this star performer?

The first answer is a look at delivered prices—and most people still are surprised to find that a car which offers so much actually costs so little.

That's true, whether you put the SPECIAL, the SUPER or the superb ROADMASTER against other cars of comparable dimensions. They certainly shine on a first-cost basis.

But this is only half the story, as you'll soon find out on any used-car lot.

Year in, year out, the resale prices of Buicks stay much closer to first cost than the prices of cars with lesser merit.

And among recent models, Buicks with Dynaflex Drive command such a premium that you can almost figure you get this dream drive for free.

So why not let yourself go? Why not walk right into your Buick dealer's now and say, put me down for one of those!

There's no time like the present for showing your good judgment.

New Situation In Rent Control Has Everybody Ducking

By MAX HALL
(For James Marlow)

Washington—(P)—The cold war over rent controls is about to break out into another shooting spree in congress. Everybody duck. This happens once or twice each year. But it's a bit different this time. The bat lefront will be somewhat hard to trace on the map. Rent controls have been largely in the hands of local communities for some time now, and there is no uniformity in the land.

American cities and towns fall into several groups.

1. Some have never been under rent controls.
2. Some have de-controlled themselves. They decided they no longer needed rent ceilings. So they took advantage of a federal law passed in 1949, and got rid of them. This group includes Miami, San Diego, Oklahoma City and about 400 other communities.
3. Some have been de-controlled on the initiative of the federal government, on the ground that the housing shortage had ended there. More than 500 communities are in this group.
4. Some have been de-controlled by their state legislatures. Examples: All places in Virginia, Alabama, Texas, and Nebraska. New York State went out from under federal controls a year ago but is governed by a state rent control law instead.
5. Some communities have decided to continue rent controls until the middle of next year. A law approved last June permits them to do this, either by action of their governing bodies or by a vote of the people. This group includes Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and about 700 other places.
6. More than 2,000 communities under federal rent controls have done nothing, and therefore, under the law of last June, their rent controls will automatically end on Dec. 31, unless they take action to extend them—or unless congress does. This large group embracing perhaps 40,000,000 people, includes Cleveland, Cincinnati, Baltimore, San Francisco, Kansas City, Seattle, Atlanta, and New Orleans.

When the old 81st congress meets next Monday for its brief final session, it must decide what to do about the last group described above.

President Truman wants the cut-off date extended three months beyond Dec. 31. That is, until March 31. This would give the new 82nd congress three months to argue the whole thing out after it meets in January.

City, Seattle, Atlanta, and New Orleans.

At the close of 1949 there were 443,600 producing oil wells in the United States, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Former Sheffield Man Gets Parish

It will interest a great many friends in this vicinity to learn that the Rev. Perry A. Carlson, son of Mrs. John H. Kraft, Sheffield, is pastor of a brand new parish in Norwalk, Calif., organized in the name of St. John's Lutheran church.

Rev. Carlson was graduated from Sheffield High School in 1934, and was in charge of the Youngville, Chander Valley and Freehold parishes during the summer of 1940, while he was completing seminary studies.

His new congregation was organized on Reformation Sunday, with more than 100 charter members meeting in the Nettie L. Waite school auditorium in Norwalk.

The parish is a member of the Augustana Lutheran Church, affiliated with the National Lutheran Council. Mission work, culminating in its establishment, was begun last March under the sponsorship of the Angelica Lutheran church of Los Angeles.

First air speed record was established in 1906 by Santos Dumont, a Frenchman, who flew 25 miles an hour.

Slick Tips for Winter Safety—

Winter driving, with its slippery roads and fogged windshields, calls for extra caution on the road. Here are some tips by traffic safety experts aimed at keeping you alive and your car unscathed through the winter.

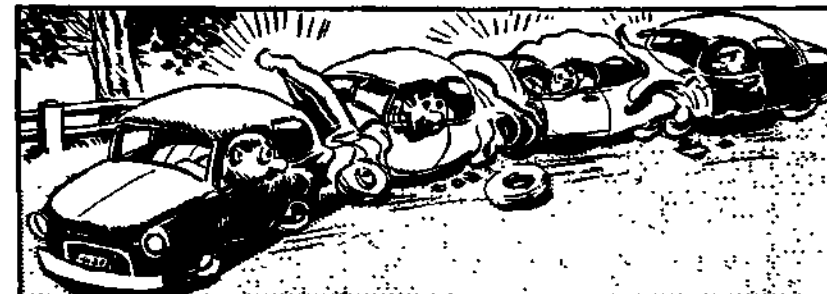

Adjust speed to conditions. Follow speed pattern set by majority of drivers. Keep windshield and windows clear of snow and ice; lower windows to maintain side vision if necessary.

Normal use of brakes on a slippery surface may lock the wheels and throw your vehicle out of control. Use an intermittent brake application for stops. In an emergency, disengage clutch and jab brake rapidly.

Tire chains are the most effective self-help for the motorist in increasing traction on icy and snowy surfaces. Remember that chains do not provide steering control so necessary on curves.

Follow other vehicles at a safe enough distance to permit a stop or allow ample room for getting out of danger if the vehicle ahead should suddenly stop. Multiple collisions are frequent on icy roads.

Early Start Made To Avert Shortage Of Help On Farms

Harrisburg—An early start to overcome a possible shortage of farm workers next season in Pennsylvania was made by Miles Horst, State Secretary of Agriculture.

Anticipating the possibility of 1951 wartime food emergencies and the accompanying need for increased production, the Secretary prepared to bring the problem to the attention of the Governor's Farm Labor Advisory Council at an early meeting. He is chairman of the council, established last summer by Governor James H. Duff, under existing state laws. Its purpose is to evaluate operations and make constructive recommendations of the Farm Placement Service of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service, Department of Labor and Industry.

During the 1950 crop growing and harvest season now drawing to a close, approximately 6,000 out-of-state farm workers were used in Pennsylvania, Secretary Horst explained. About 60,000 seasonal farm and food workers were assigned jobs this season by the Farm Placement Service.

"Continuing operation of Selective Service will take many young workers from farms in 1951," he said. "For nearly ten years there has been a shortage of experienced workers in Pennsylvania, and the task of finding even inexperienced hands next season will be difficult. Sub-committees of the council are studying different phases of the problem. One of the most important requirements at this time is the drawing up of suggestions as a guide to local draft boards in the deferment of key farm workers. Such suggestions will be based on national standards."

The Farm Labor Advisory Council already has taken action on recommending increased recruitment of migratory workers for emergencies; on inspection and licensing regulations for the housing of such workers, and suggestions for the registration of all labor contractors bringing out-of-state workers into Pennsylvania.

Paraguay has no sea coast.

Tips For Wrapping Difficult and Bulky Gifts

By GALE DUGAS
NEA STAFF WRITER

The solution to the problem of wrapping the difficult or bulky Christmas gift lies in converting materials at hand into convenient containers. And in doing this, the gift itself takes on added importance.

Christmas fruit always presents a wrapping problem. One of the easiest solutions lies in giving an ordinary paper shopping bag real glamor. Use printed cellophane to cover the bag, securing it with tape. The cellophane roping which trips the top of the bag is held in place with pool wire. Allow enough roping to permit a bow trip for the bag.

A snow man and lady, made of popcorn and mounted on a cardboard sled, can be an attractive inexpensive gift for a child. They are covered with clear red and blue cellophane and wear ties made of printed cellophane ribbon. Arms are popcorn-filled cellophane tubes, fastened on with tape. The features are red and blue tape.

The snow man wears a cone-shaped hat of blue cellophane, secured with tape. The hat perched on the snow lady's head is a red oval with ribbon trim ending in a bow under her chin. Her partner gets a glass straw slipped over a pipe cleaner as his cane.

For the sled, cut two runners from cardboard to fit the sides of a small box. Wrap the box with cellophane the long way and slip the runners in under the side folds. Add roping to the front of the runners and fasten snow man and lady in place with tape.

A sturdy cardboard ice cream container can be turned into a handsome candy box. The handle, made of a 12-inch length of cellophane rope, goes on first. Form the rope into a loop and tie the ends together with the wire. Poke the wire ends into the box top and twist them together underneath.

To make the tassel which dangles from the bottom of the box, use an 18-inch length of shredded cellophane and secure it with tie wire. A sheet of printed cellophane is used for box and cover. It's secured, top and bottom, by tape.

The handiest way to package any oddly-shaped gift is to slip it into a cardboard satchel with pom-pom ends. The satchel is, of course, an ordinary sheet of cardboard folded to the approximate size of the gift.

Cover the satchel with green cellophane and fasten both box and covering in place with tape. The handle is an eight-inch length of heavy wire covered with a red glassip which has been slipped over the wire. Glassip and wire are wound around the handle, giving a spiral effect. Band the satchel in red and give the two ends ruffles of transparent cellophane, securely taped.

Sites Scanned By Golf Association

The Warren County Golf Association, which was formed about a year ago to act as a temporary group to study possibilities of building a public golf course near Warren, has been quite active during the past several months.

Two sites have been offered the land committee, headed by Harold Swanson, and several golf course experts and green specialists have visited Warren to confer with the various committees. Among these visitors was Al Cooper, Penn State College grass expert, who was brought to Warren by Farm Agent Steve Trutt.

Association officers say they have names and addresses of approximately 250 golfers who are now driving 20 to 30 miles to enjoy their sport. These will be contacted to see if enough of them are willing to cooperate in construction of a course, although such construction must of necessity be postponed until the federal government lifts its war-emergency ban on use of materials for new amusement facilities.

Mrs. Flavia C. Kaufman, 2436 70th Ave. Baton Rouge, Louisiana, says it is a full time job keeping tabs on her little granddaughter, Mildred Gore, but it is a job she thoroughly enjoys. Yes, everything is in for her these days is enjoyable—because she has at last found her secret of feeling better. She now takes HADACOL regularly because she was suffering from a deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin, and Iron.

Here is Mrs. Kaufman's statement: "I have been taking HADACOL for over a year. Before I started taking HADACOL I was terribly nervous and all the time I was underweight and just couldn't eat at all. My appetite was so low that I ate irregularly at all hours of the day. Then I started taking HADACOL. After the third bottle I felt 100% better. I have gained weight, my appetite is tremendous and, best of all, I sleep well. My nerves and my system are steady as can be. HADACOL is a very wonderful product. I just can't praise HADACOL enough."

HADACOL is that wonderful new preparation—promising blessed relief for your indigestion, stomach disturbances (gas, heartburn, sour "risings" after meals), as well as that general run-down condition, and nagging aches and pains due to a lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin in your system.

HADACOL is so amazingly successful because if your system lacks Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin it acts directly to relieve this deficiency—the real cause of your trouble. That's the kind of product you want—the kind you should buy—the kind you should start taking immediately.

Only One Genuine HADACOL
Don't go through life suffering those nagging aches and pains if caused by such deficiencies when relief may be as close at hand as the nearest drugstore for sufferers from these deficiencies. Buy HADACOL today. Trial size bottle only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. Refuse substitutes. There's only one true and genuine HADACOL. If your drugstore does not have HADACOL, order it direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana. Adv.

At the business meeting which followed, routine affairs were discussed, with special attention given to the need for supplies in the denomination's various homes. Problems of the Ruth M. Smith Home at Sheffield were considered at length, with thanks extended to the women who have been sewing for the home. These women, and others interested, met later to discuss the formation of a Ruth M. Smith Home Auxiliary to be composed of women from Grace, Epworth and First churches.

Woman's Club Members Learn Much About Federation from State Head

The Warren Woman's Club, at the November meeting of the Community Service Department had the privilege of entertaining and hearing Mrs. Harry W. Schaaf, of Erie, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs.

In the absence of Mrs. Harry Lewis, Mrs. D. E. Conaway spoke briefly on child welfare. Mrs. R. W. Steber announced the speaker for next Monday's meeting, Mrs. Clement B. Yinger, Bradford, Mrs. W. F. Clinger, chairman, and Mrs. Wallace Cowden, club president, expressed their appreciation to the membership for cooperation in making the recent bazaar such a successful event.

Mrs. Schaaf was then presented to the group by Mrs. A. C. Jackson, departmental chairman. The speaker defined the Federation as non-sectarian, non-political, and non-secret, its aim being unification of the interests of women in the commonwealth. She outlined the membership, explained dues and routine of meetings, before taking up the purposes of the organization.

She pointed out that Federation educational and philanthropic groups are recognized by all states and foreign nations, and projects constantly emphasize such topics as family living, social legislation, and participation as citizens in the moulding of public international Federation's 11,500,000.

St. Joseph's Group Is Planning Annual Party

At the November meeting of the St. Joseph Parent-Teacher unit, Marian Honhart was named chairman of the committee on arrangements to plan for the annual Christmas party.

Reports of the following standing committee chairmen were given: Freda Davis, program; Jennie Book, hospitality; and Rhea Eggleston, membership. Additional chairmen for the term were named, with Iona Morrison handling publicity; Maxine Lytle, head of the sick committee, and Ruth Still for the monthly communion breakfast for the school children.

Father Alfred Bauer personally thanked the committee in charge of the recent spaghetti supper, also all those who in any way contributed to its success. Mrs. Angeline Tridico and Rose Rizzardi were co-chairmen for the affair and expressed their appreciation to non-members who helped in the kitchen.

It was reported the seventh and opinion. All legislative bodies have come to know and respect the powers that are wielded by a group of such size as the Federation, she said, and the membership down through the various divisions to the individual club and members should make their voices heard in public affairs.

Under international relations, Mrs. Schaaf described briefly the four-point program on United Nations and, in this connection, repeated the statement that the members include an almost unbelievable total of four and one-half million in Korea.

In conclusion, the speaker urged the members to use all modern means of communication in keeping themselves informed on public affairs, in living better lives and in making better homes, and, as clubwomen, to see their responsibilities and go forward in faith.

Mrs. Davidson Kennedy was hostess for the tea hour which followed, with Mrs. George Craft and Mrs. Freeman Hertzler presiding.

Wife Finds It Hard to Adjust Herself to Husband's Success

SHE was a good wife to him during the first years of their marriage. Poverty, hard work, doing without; all these she accepted without complaint. When he couldn't afford to hire help in the office, she pitched in and added that to her household chores.

But now that he's successful, she has quit making an effort to be the kind of wife he needs. She seems almost bitter about his success. Listen and she'll tell you what "big" ideas he has as she complains about all the money he spends.

He seems to have forgotten the hard years, and that annoys her so much she keeps reminding him and everyone else of all they went through together in the early days. She has let herself go and so while he looks like a successful man she is far from an advertisement of his success.

SHE OFFERS NO ENCOURAGEMENT

INSTEAD of helping him develop his ideas, or at least encouraging him, she fights them. She doesn't want to move ahead.

What's the matter with her? She is making the mistake that many hard-working, practical-minded women often make. She is refusing to accept the fact that at different periods of his life a man needs different kinds of help from his wife.

Hard work, economy, doing without; these things she could understand. When that was what was required of her, she stood at her husband's side, glad to feel needed, to know she was doing her part.

But he doesn't need that kind of help or that kind of a partner now. He needs someone ready to move ahead with him, to forget the past, make the most of the present and plan for the future.

She doesn't see the need for she is one of those women who are good wives while a man is struggling to get ahead, but who start to pull against a man once he achieves the success she struggled to help him win.

Regulations Set For Up-Coming Deer Hunting Season in Penna.

Believing that a review of the regulations governing the taking of deer in Pennsylvania this year will be appreciated, the following reminders and classifications are offered for the guidance of hunters.

1. On November 27 and 28, only antlerless deer may be killed in those counties open to "doe" hunting. Counties closed by abrogation to antlerless deer hunting are: Bedford, Cameron, Centre, Clearfield, Clinton, Elk, Franklin, Fulton, Juniata, Mifflin, Perry, Pike, Snyder, and Sullivan. No deer hunting of any kind will be legal in the counties closed to "doe" hunting, on State land or elsewhere.
2. Antlered deer may not be taken lawfully in any county of the Commonwealth on November 27 and 28.
3. On Monday, November 27, the antlerless deer season opens at 9 a. m., closes at 5 p. m. On November 28, the second and final day of "doe" season, the beginning hour is 7 a. m. The end of this special season comes at 5 p. m. that day.
4. Shooting hours for the first day of "buck" season, Wednesday, November 29, and for every day of the antlered deer season, which ends Saturday, December 9, are 7 a. m. to 5 p. m.
5. Five or more persons hunting together or cooperating with each other while hunting deer must maintain one roster of approved form on the person of the party captain and one at the group's headquarters or camp.
6. After a legal kill has been made, the successful hunter must tag his deer. It is good practice to do this immediately. The law requires that before the animal is transported or in any manner re-camping, stalking and waiting on watch.

Certain dangers go with the practice of spotting deer from autos. Aside from the legal requirement that all guns be carried unloaded in vehicles, road hunters will show good judgment by transporting only empty firearms as a safety measure and by unloading them carefully before entering a car.

Surprisingly often, hunters shoot themselves by pulling a loaded gun muzzle first from a car, or they discharge the firearm in the auto in some dangerous manner. Rifles leaned against a bumper or fender may fall and discharge. All hunters are warned that, for safety reasons, the law prohibits shooting across any road.

Holiday Menu For Radio and Video Is An Interesting One

New York, Nov. 22.—Football by television and radio, two special machine telecasts, plus an hour's radio production will form the bulk of Thanksgiving observance on the networks.

The football, divided one Pro game on television and one college game on radio, will be handled by the same network under this timing on Thursday:

National Pro League—ABC-TV 11:55 a. m. New York Yankees vs. Detroit Lions at Detroit, Red Grange and Joe Hasiel to selected TV network.

Kansas vs. Missouri—ABC-radio 2:45 p. m., from Columbia, Mo., Harry Wismer and Jim Gibbons to full network.

As a Thanksgiving eve special, MBS at 9 to 10 tonight is to have "The Thanksgiving Hour" in its first broadcast, presented in place of the family theater, it also is under the cooperation of Father Patrick Peyton, director of the family rosary crusade.

Edgar Bergen and his Charlie McCarthy comprise one of the two television features for Thanksgiving matinee on CBS-TV. Not a TV debut, it will be their first video show under auspices of the same sponsor who puts on their CBS Sunday radio series.

VARSITY PROSPECTS: Shown in this Times-Mirror photo is part of the large group of candidates who are hopeful of attaining varsity berths on the Warren High School's 1950-51 basketball team. This group includes seniors, juniors and seven sophomores. Coach Joe Massa has a squad of 47 sophomores who practice separately, but each day he picks six or seven from the second-year men to work out with the varsity squad. The senior group has now been cut from an initial turnout of 22 to 13 men, while 16 of the original 28 juniors still have orders to report for practice sessions, but further paring of the roster is in prospect before the Dragons open their campaign on Friday, Dec. 1.

Foley, Gordon and Shattuck are lettermen.

The sophomores group at this particular practice session included Hartnett, Falvo, Leonard, Kornreich, Smith, Morris and Zingone.

Saturday Games To Decide Elevens For Bowl Participation

New York, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Six bowl games were set today, but the big attractions—Rose, Sugar, Cotton and Orange—must wait until the football gun sets Saturday before anything can be decided.

Only in the Cotton Bowl, where Texas is an assured participant, has any team been definitely chosen. And there's confusion even in Dallas.

Yesterday, for instance, officials of the classic said several teams are under consideration—but no formal invitation has been issued. What prompted the statement was that earlier in Chicago the big ten conference had refused to give Michigan State permission to play in the Cotton Bowl.

As of now, it looks like Oklahoma or Tennessee—depending on Saturday's games—will play Texas. Oklahoma meets Nebraska, Tennessee faces Kentucky.

Rose at Pasadena—Illinois vs. California.

Sugar at New Orleans—Kentucky or Tennessee vs. Oklahoma, or SMU.

Cotton at Dallas—Texas vs. Oklahoma or Tennessee.

Orange at Miami—Miami vs. Kentucky, Tennessee, Clemson or Wyoming.

Gator at Jacksonville—several of the above teams are in the running.

West Texas State and the University of Cincinnati accepted bids to play in the Sun Bowl game at El Paso, Tex., on New Year's day.

The Orange Blossom classic at Miami Dec. 2 also was set as Florida A&M and Wilberforce (Ohio) State agreed to meet.

The presidential cup game, Washington's Dec. 2 match, also was undecided when Maryland's athletic council couldn't make up its mind. Texas A&M was reported still interested. The Aggies might play Georgia.

Forty-five per cent of the total highway mileage in the United States, or about 1,860,000 miles, is on rural mail routes.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Talk about over-emphasizing football, now about this? ... Colorado College, which won the Rocky Mountain Conference grid title this season, already is worrying about a surplus of good hockey players. ... seems that so many Canadian boys, and other good skaters, have listened to the encouragement from C. C. that 28 first-class prospects turned out for practice while only 16 can be dressed for any game. ... Some of the eleven lettermen may be cut from the squad. ... Colorado Springs also is coming up as a rival to Hershey, Pa., as a home for retired cross-checkers. About eight of the Canadian alumni are established in business there and will form the nucleus of a team that will oppose the C. C. varsity in an "old-timers" game. Coach Cheddy Thompson and tub-thumper K. G. Freyschlag also will try to noid those varsity Tigers.

Skyinskus, Syracuse soph tackle who is tabbed by Coach Ben Schwartzwalder as a future all America, took fourth place in the AAU heavyweight wrestling championships last winter although he never had wrestled before he entered college. ... Another "bookie", Hank Rosenstein, star of the Scranton Miners on the American pro basketball league, never played high school basketball. He took it up at City College (New York) night school and played at Brooklyn Jewish Center and in the Navy. ...

St. Bona Gridders To Battle Xavier

St. Bonaventure, N. Y.—The offensive-minded Brown Indians of St. Bonaventure University, possessing the "East's" top passer in Ted Marchibroda and the East's second highest ground gainer in Jerry Hanifin, will attempt to derail Xavier University's football team in a Thanksgiving Day game in Cincinnati.

Although it is a first-time meeting between the two teams, the contest marks the second appearance of a Bonnie eleven in Cincinnati. In 1947, the New Yorkers dropped a 20-14 thriller to the Bearcats of Cincinnati.

The Bona attack has moved at an average clip of 408 yards in winning seven of eight starts so far this season. John Carroll, Dayton and Toledo have felt the sting of the Bonaventure drive, along with Houston, Boston University, Niagara and St. Vincent. Only defeat suffered by the Indians was a 25-12 upset at the hands of Duquesne.

Sophomore Marchibroda and juniors Hanifin and Bernie Popson have carried the biggest share of the Indians' punch.

Marchibroda has completed 80 of 161 pass attempts for 1401 yards and 12 touchdowns for a mark that places him over Red Bagnell of Penn and Charley Maloy of Holy Cross for Eastern leadership.

He is also first in the East in total offense with a net yardage of 1496.

Record Slaughter Of Deer Expected During the Season

Harrisburg, Nov. 22.—(P)—The Pennsylvania Game Commission predicted today hunters will bag more than 130,000 deer in the Commonwealth during the 13-day season, opening Nov. 27.

Thomas Frye, Commission Executive Director, said hunters should have little trouble equaling or bettering the 131,000 shot last year.

The 1950 deer season opens Nov. 27 with two days devoted to antlerless deer hunting in all but 14 counties. Bucks can be shot in all counties from Nov. 29 through Dec. 9.

The 14 counties closed to antlerless deer hunting received special permission from the commission to suspend the doe season after submitting enabling petitions.

The two-day doe season, longest since 1940, was fixed by the commission in an effort to cut down the size of Pennsylvania's deer herd now estimated at 700,000. It acted after receiving a flood of complaints from farmers of crop damage by deer.

The doe season gets underway at 9 a. m., Monday, Nov. 27. During the two-day season it will be illegal to shoot antlered or buck deer. Shooting hours during the

Jury In Civil Suit Returns Verdict For Plaintiff Of $1,000

A jury hearing the trespass case of Minnie C. Greenlund vs. Albert E. Elmhurst yesterday afternoon returned a verdict of $1,000 for the plaintiff after two and one-half hours deliberation. The suit arose out of injuries received by Mrs. Greenlund in a fall in front of the Elmhurst Grocery on Laurel street in 1947. She was represented by C. Henry Nicholson, and the defendant by R. Pierson Eaton.

A civil suit of W. J. Barhite and Mildred N. Barhite, of Sinclairville, N. Y., vs. Claude James Phillips, of North Warren, executor of Burdette James Phillips, deceased, was continued until another term of court today after Judge Allison D. Wade admitted additional amendments to the pleadings in the case.

The jury, chosen to hear the case yesterday afternoon, was dismissed with the thanks of the court.

Would-be motorists are allowed no more than three rejections under a learner's permit which is issued for a 90-day period.

Wilhelm said most of the failures are the result of unsatisfactory driving. Other reasons are inability to answer questions about the highway code and defective equipment on the vehicle used for the examination.

HERBERT RAYMOND PERRY

Titusville Herald: Herbert Raymond Perry, 79, died suddenly at 5:50 p. m. yesterday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wallace Wagner of 419 South Franklin street, with whom he resided.

Mr. Perry, who despite his advanced age, was very active, had been up town and on the streets only a few minutes before. Coming home, he sat down to supper with the rest of the family and soon collapsed in his chair. Efforts to revive him failed and he died within a few minutes. Death was the result of a heart ailment.

Mr. Perry was born at Enterprise in Nov. 25, 1870, in the same house in which his great-grandfather, grandfather and father were also born. He married Miss Minnie Fuller at Warren, on Aug. 7, 1894. She died July 7, 1944.

Mr. Perry had followed the oil business all his adult life as a driller, working through Pennsylvania fields and also in Oklahoma. He was the son of Jason and Angeline Dunham Perry.

He attended the Methodist church at Enterprise for a number of years before moving to Titusville to live with his daughter. He was a member of the L.O.O.M. of Titusville, and a social member of the P.N.A. club.

Besides the daughter with whom he made his home, the deceased leaves another daughter, Mrs. A. C. Brown of Drake Well Memorial Park; three sons, George of Seminole, Okla.; Robert of Tulsa, Okla.; and Howard of Okmulgee, Okla. Eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild also survive.

Friends may call at the Wade S. Tracy Home of Funerals at any time.

Besides her husband, she leaves one son and two daughters, William F., of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Grace Minich, Santa Clara, Calif., and Mrs. Anna Belle Dadey, Buffalo, N. Y.; also three grandchildren, one sister, Mrs. Florence Knight, Portsmouth, O.

Removal has been made to the Leo D. Gibson Funeral Home, where friends will be received at the usual hours beginning at 7 p. m. Thursday. Services will be held from there at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, conducted by her pastor, Rev. E. K. Rogers and followed by interment in Oakland cemetery.

Bomber Crash Is Reported In Texas

Fort Worth, Nov. 22.—(P)—A B-36 bomber crashed today about ten miles north of Cleburne in north central Texas.

There were unconfirmed reports ten men bailed from the craft—the world's largest land-based bomber—before the crash.

Capt. Robert S. Anderson of the Public Information Division of Eighth Air Force Headquarters here said he had only fragmentary information.

"An American Air Lines pilot says ten men bailed out," the captain said. "Ordinarily a B-36 carries a crew of 15."

Anderson said the crash site was just west of Joshua, a small town north of Cleburne, and near the O. B. Hadley farm.

Crash crews and ambulances were enroute to the scene from Carswell Air Force base here, headquarters of the Eighth Air Force.

Only twice before has one of the far-ranging giants crashed. Last Feb. 14 one crashed along the British Columbia coast. Seventeen airmen parachuted and 12 later were rescued from coastal islands. On Sept. 16, 1949, five airmen were killed when a B-36 failed to complete a take-off from Carswell and roared into a nearby lake at 100 miles an hour.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 22.—(P)—Winter loosened its grip today in parts of Pennsylvania but clamped down harder than ever in the northwest section.

Milder weather and occasional rains are forecast for Thanksgiving day. A low of 30 degrees is expected tonight and a high of 45 is predicted tomorrow in the west. Road conditions are poor east and north of Pittsburgh, with as much as three inches of snow covering many highways. Near Pittsburgh highways are clear and traffic is moving normally.

State police issued a warning to travelers to guard against icy spots on what appear to be clear highways.

Four to seven inches of snow fell in Erie last night. Traffic was badly jammed on Route 20 (Cleveland and Buffalo routes) but cars and trucks began coming through Erie this morning. Route 18 between Mercer and Meadville is described as hazardous.

Northwest front — The ROK Eighth Division occupied Yongwon, and with other divisions of the ROK Second Corps established a line running five to six miles north of Tokchon. Chinese Communists were building a series of strong defenses six to eleven miles north, just as they were on the rest of the northwest front manned by the U. S. First Corps.

Chinese were building a mountain defense line to the north, and pockmarking highways with tank traps and road blocks. The flat lands along the coast leading to the border city of Sinuiju were dotted with roadblocks.

Guerrilla "front"—Tough and bitter fighting was reported in bypassed areas of western Korean Wednesday. Two ROK Second Division regiments attacked Chuncheon in full force, trying to drive Reds out of the town 40 miles northeast of Seoul, the ROK capital.

Air front—U. S. F-80 jets tried to get into a fight with 10 Russian made MIG-15 jets over Sinuiju. But the Red jets fled across the border to safety in Manchuria. Four other enemy jets were sighted later over the city.

THE MARKETS

New York, Nov. 22.—(P)—Pro-nounced weakness in radio-television stocks highlighted a generally steady market today. TV issues dropped an extreme of more than $3 a share. Changes elsewhere were limited mostly to 50 cents a share, with gains and losses pretty evenly distributed. Trading started slowly, later picking up a little speed. The drop in the TV group has apparently a second-day response to news Tuesday that the radio-television manufacturers association predicted a sharp drop in production early in 1951 because of present and pending curbs on vital materials.

Large Plane Crashes Into Snowy Mount

it was flying west, just opposite the direction the California plane should have been headed. There was speculation it was lost and hunting landmarks.

Half an hour later, acting Teton Park Superintendent Paul A. Judge said a fire was reported about 1,000 feet from the top of Mount Moran.

Judge made plans to push out across the lake at daybreak by boat. In his group was an experienced mountain climbing team of four rangers headed by Blake Van de Water. Lodge was to set up base on Moran Bay. The team was to start the long climb up the mountain. Lodge estimated it would take six to eight hours—if they encountered no slides in the four feet of fresh snow.

Fine Selects Two Cabinet Members

Miami Beach, Fla., Nov. 22.—(P)—Two members of Gov. James H. Duff's cabinet—Adjutant General Frank A. Weber and Highways Secretary Ray F. Smock—will continue in office when the new Pennsylvania Administration takes over in January.

Governor-Elect John S. Fine, vacationing here, disclosed this to a press conference yesterday. He praised the records of both officials, and said they were "deserving" of reappointment.

Smock is a resident of Meadville.

Fine applauded Weber's "untiring efforts in behalf of the veterans of Pennsylvania."

The governor-elect has described his post-election visit to this southern resort as a "working vacation."

While no definite arrangements have been disclosed, Fine said he hopes to meet with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, and Gov. Sherman Adams, of New Hampshire, who also are vacationing here.

Beaver Falls Bus and Tractor Crash

Beaver Falls, Nov. 22.—(P)—A big tractor-trailer truck collided with a city passenger bus today, injuring 17 persons. None of the injured were hurt seriously.

The crash occurred at the corner of 17th street and seventh avenue, the city's main street, about 6 a. m.

Witnesses said the bus, owned by the Beaver Valley Motor Coach Company, stopped at the corner to discharge a passenger and was struck from the rear by the big truck.

The cab of the truck hit the bus a glancing blow and then the trailer part of the heavy vehicle crashed into the bus with crushing force.

The impact drove the bus into a metal utility pole. Several high tension wires were knocked to the ground.

INDIANA FARMER IS NEW GRANGE HEAD

Minneapolis, Nov. 22.—(P)—Herschel D. Newsom, Indiana farmer active in the National Grange for 35 years, will be installed as master in the finale of the organization's 84th annual meeting here Friday.

Newsom was elected by delegates yesterday to fill the one-year unexpired term of Albert S. Goss, who died in New York last month of a heart attack.

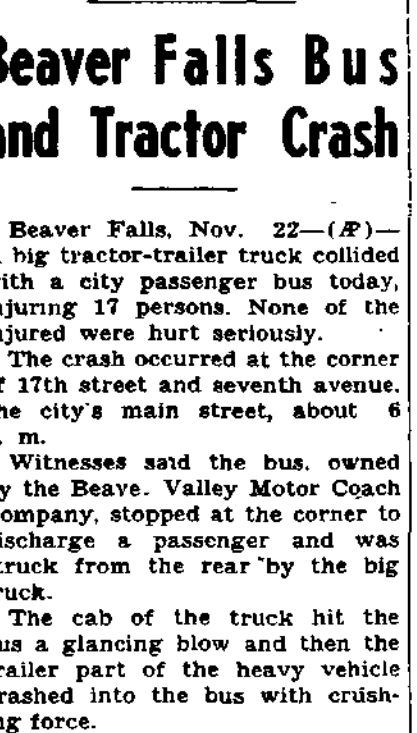

The new master, with his mother and sister, owns and operates a 472-acre farm near Columbus, Ind. He has served as state master of the Indiana Grange since 1937 and as head of the National Executive Committee since last year.

Peru is the oldest petroleum producing country in South America and petroleum is its most important mineral product.

The Nation Today

THE NATION TODAY . . . . . YOU VS. INFLATION

By MAX HALL
For James Marlow

Washington (AP) The government is asking you for "voluntary cooperation" in fighting inflation. What sort of cooperation? What do they mean? They attribute inflation to the existence of too much purchasing power in relation to the amount of goods. Are they suggesting you shouldn't buy that refrigerator, television set, or pair of shoes you've been wanting?

Alan Valentine, the economic stabilization administrator, made a speech the other night.

Again and again he asked for the "voluntary cooperation" of industry, labor and the public. He urged "restraint" and "self-control" and "personal sacrifice." He argued, He pleaded, He warned.

Valentine asked businessmen and labor to exercise restraint on prices and wage demands. But concerning the cooperation of the public—the consumer—the average individual who has no direct power to determine the size of prices or wage demands Valentine wasn't quite so clear.

He only asked: "Should not American women, who determine most purchases of consumer goods, manage their households and

Writer Predicts Good Year for Christmas Shopping

Retailers of Nation Predict That Season Will Set a New Dollar Sales Record

By RADER WINGET
(For Sam Dawson)

New York. (AP) Christmas shopping this year looks like the best ever for merchants get out and hustle for business.

Christmas business last year in the department store field eclipsed the all-time high of the year before. And this year is regarded by retailers as a certainty to set a new high dollar volume record at Christmas.

A good part of the rise in total business over the last two years has been accounted for by advancing prices, but the physical volume of business also has been on the up-grade.

Safety Committee Issues Appeal For Cautious Driving

The traditional happiness of Thanksgiving may be blasted instantly into anguish and bereavement by an automobile wreck, an official of the Governor's Highway Safety Advisory Committee, warned today.

"Every year at this time, homes all over the nation are plunged into grief by mistakes on the highway," declared T. Elmer Transau, director of the Pennsylvania Bureau of Highway Safety.

"One of the tragic features of these traffic accidents is that many of them result from only a momentary lapse of caution. Just a second's inattention, just a trifling defiance of a safety regulation, and a whole household may be saddened."

Transau stressed that motorists should carefully check their brakes, headlights, windshield wipers and defrosters, and be prepared to put on tire chains if the weather makes that necessary.

"Remember that it doesn't take a serious omission to cause a serious accident," he cautioned. "A driver may feel only slightly to blame for a highway tragedy. But the victim or victims feel the pain or injury just as sharply, and their loved ones feel the pangs of sorrow just as bitterly."

"Moreover, death—if it comes—doesn't seem to care who was most to blame."

able through a large part of the country.

The federal reserve board ordered installment selling curbed by requiring larger down payments and shortening the payment time. When the first credit rules were issued in September there was little comment one way or the other, but when the regulations were tightened up later this was a general outcry that sales would suffer.

The federal reserve pointed out lower sales total was exactly what they aimed at as an inflation stopper. Three other things nudged along the sales drop—1. The controversy over color television which so confused the public that a virtual buyers slow-down sprang up in many cities. 2. A bulge of advance buying to beat the Nov. 1 manufacturers 10 per cent excise tax on television. 3. The automobile model changeover and the seasonal drop in used car sales.

That's dollars over the country now, though, and retailers are looking forward to that big Christmas season.

Advance reports show key stores did a substantial election day business, and that is always taken as a token of Christmas buying tempo.

But don't get the idea that everything is lovely in the retail business. Merchants will tell you it takes a smart man to manage his store wisely, keep his customers happy and make a profit.

For example you remember last summer when there were a lot of people buying heavily because of the "war scare"? Well, a lot of merchants did the same thing, and consequently they built up their inventories higher than is comfortable.

They haven't had much time to try to work them down, but they hope that when this Christmas season is over inventories will be in balance. The fact that replacement prices later may be higher hasn't caused much excitement. As one retailer said: "We're merchants, not speculators. It's our job to sell goods, not juggle inventories."

In line with that trend was the absence of scare buying last week when the Chinese Communists revived fears that the Korean war would be extended.

Retailers have been through a lot in the past months and they face a considerable array of uncertainties in the future.

At mid-year department store sales were jumping along about even with the year before. Then came the Korean invasion and a mad rush to buy that shot sales more than 45 per cent higher than the previous year. Merchants frantically replaced inventories and stockpiled goods. But the scare died down and people quit buying. This month sales were back to unchanged from a year ago, about where they were last June.

Causes for the let-down are easy to find. People did their November buying last July and August. The weather has been unseason-

Business and Industry Will Be Almost At Standstill In Warren for the Holiday

Business and industry in Warren will be practically at a standstill on the morning, as families and friends assemble for Thanksgiving Day and realize that while we have come a long way from the troubles that beset the founding fathers and today we have the troubles of a large share of the world on our shoulders, Americans of 1950 have still much for which to be thankful.

Many places of business have announced special closings in order that management and employees may have the day to spend with their families and in their homes.

A number of individual churches will have morning or evening Thanksgiving Day services, with the community-wide service arranged by the Warren County Ministerial Association at St. Paul's Lutheran church at 7:30 tonight.

Institutions for the young, the aged, and the hospitalized have Outing Club tomorrow evening.

The holiday period for Warren borough schools began with the close of classes this afternoon and will continue over the weekend, resuming on Monday morning.

Holiday regulations will be in effect at the post office, with deliveries limited to "specials".

There will be no Thursday issue of the Times-Mirror, necessitating the reminder that advertising and news copy for Friday must be in early.

DAILY PRODUCTION
Production of crude oil and lease condensate throughout the nation Nov. 4 totalled 5,896,450 barrels according to figures released by the American Petroleum Institute. This was an increase of 760,250 barrels over the comparative week in 1949 when 5,135,600 barrels were produced. The New York-Pennsylvania district produced 48,500 barrels during the week, an increase of 2,450 barrels over the previous week and a rise of 6,700 over the comparable week of 1949.

OFFICERS OF WARREN GRANGE ARE INSTALLED

There was a large turnout for the regular meeting of Warren Grange No. 1025, when officers were installed by members of Farmington Grange.

Lloyd Wilcox, as installing officer, was assisted by Mabel Phillips, deputy marshal; Mary Sturtevant, regalia bearer; Margaret Wilcox, emblem bearer; Iva Hitchcock, chaplain.

For the program, Marie Belton gave a poem, "Let Us Give Thanks," and E. Leo Johnson, Youngville, assistant steward of the State Grange, gave a short talk.

To conclude the evening, an oyster supper was served by the social committee.

made plans to remember their charges with special holiday menus and the charitable organizations will be lending a hand to the less fortunate.

There will be little in the way of entertainment for the holiday, other than the special programs which will be carried by all radio networks and movies billed at local theatres.

Young people of the community, those of senior high through college age groups, will be welcome at the Phalanx Fraternity's Holiday Hop at the YMCA tonight, and many friends have been invited to be guests of members for the Junior Chamber of Commerce Thanksgiving Ball at the Marconi

Use Our Christmas Lay-Away Plan

Ample Turkey Crop State Official Says

Harrisburg—(P)—A record crop of turkeys is available for Thanksgiving day dinners, the State Agriculture Department reports.

In addition, a federal-state survey also showed that there should be an abundance for Christmas.

Farmers plan to market more birds during November and December than ever before, the report stated.

State farmers grew 1,474,000 birds this year, more than any other state, State Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst said.

Trimings for the annual turkey dinner are plentiful too, the report said, although pumpkins lag slightly behind other "extras" such as cranberries.

Horst said many growers started their birds early, grew them to eight or 10 pounds then dressed them for the oven and froze them.

Families who have many mouths to feed will find plenty of birds in the 16 to 25 pound range, Horst declared.

Angels Are Symbols of Hope To Children of the World

An American child admires the wax face and nylon curls of shining Christmas figure, handmade by displaced persons in Germany. It serves as guardian angel to needy children throughout the world who profit from sales of these symbols of hope and friendship.

By ANNE LARSEN,
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK (INEA)—The small golden figures which will adorn many American homes during the Yuletide season this year are more than empty symbols of the Christmas spirit.

They bear, on their slender paper shoulders, enough responsibility for the doing of good works to reflect credit upon the most conscientious life-sized angel.

Through the sale of these figures under the auspices of World Friendship Among Children, needy youngsters throughout the world are given help and hope. WFAC, which is a branch of Church World Services, is a non-profit, non-discriminatory organization devoted to promoting understanding among children of various countries.

The Friendship Angels, which are now made by hand by 40 displaced persons in a farmhouse workshop in the Bavarian Alps, were first created as a hobby by a German artist, Irene Linnebach. Originally designed as holiday gifts for her friends in pre-Hitler days, the figures gained wider distribution during the war, finding their way into the hands of war orphans, soldiers, prisoners of war and other war-victimized people.

Many regarded them during those dark years as a bright symbol of hope for future peace and happiness in the world.

Although they stand only 14 inches high, the careful handicraft that has gone into the construction of the angels makes them outstanding as artistic works.

Delicate wax faces, flanked by soft tufts of spun nylon hair, wear an expression of gentle benevolence above outstretched arms that hold tiny candles.

Gold paper foil is used to fashion the resplendent headpieces, wings and robes. The pleated skirt of the latter folds flat for packing.

The angels began their international trek when, in 1943, the Red Cross introduced them in Switzerland. They were first brought to the United States in 1949 through the efforts of Mrs. Gerda Schauer, secretary of the WFAC. She learned about them when in Germany working through the schools there to further international friendship among children.

reaches the most people and touches them most intimately. Whether we ourselves sing or play or merely listen, we know that music is a part of life.

Going back to the far-off days of the Psalmist David and the philosopher Plato, records show that the wise men of all times and countries have considered music not a luxury but a necessity to public welfare. Music is man's emotional escape valve as well as his confessional. It is the Universal language that begins where the words leave off.

No better time to develop an interest in music can be found than at Christmas.

How To Make Cute Snowman Gift Wrap

Make a cute snowman gift wrap for a youngster's toy. After you wrap and tie the package with ribbon, make a gay dollie snowman with a jaunty peaky clown hat. Start by making his collar first with a piece of green crepe paper about 6 inches wide. Fold it in half and tie in between with gold ribbon to form a ruffle. Make his head, using 5 or 6 round 6-inch dollies. Pinch each dolly in the center and gather it. Then group the dollies to form a ball or pom-pom effect—the snow man's face. Fasten together with paste. Cut his features from gummed seals—his eye out of blue lawyer seals; his nose and mouth out of sections from red notary seals. Paste them in place. Paste the complete head on to the green ruffle.

Make a hat for the snowman by rolling a strip of green paper into a cone 4-inches tall and large enough to fit on the head. Remove the center from one dolly and paste the edge around the bottom of the hat as a trim. Add a band of gold ribbon on top of the dolly trim and a gold ribbon bow at the point of the hat. Paste the hat on the snowman's head. If you make your snowman right, he'll sway slightly when you move the box.

Large Assortment of Cotton Toys Described

By GAIL DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer

To the fairly long list of child-ood toys so beloved that they have become unperishable, the well-stuffed cotton toy must be added. The number of children who have gone to sleep cuddling a raggedy Ann must now be legion. Cotton toys are in the bag this Christmas. Made to neat patterns from handy cotton feed bags, they'll make Dec. 25 more fun for my small child. Cotton bag sizes range from the 10-pound sugar sacks to the 100-pound feed bags. These bags come in floral and conversational prints, plaids, stripes and checks. The stitches are char-acterized in every pattern and several patterns have easy-to-do hot iron transfers.

Easily available at bakeries, grocery stores and feed dealers, over 150,000,000 of these feed and flour bags were snapped up by women last year. In fact, women have been known to buy mule feed for the chickens in order to get the exact print they want for home sewing.

Upside-down Suzy, easily made from three small cotton bags, is really two dolls. She has two dresses, two smiling faces, a bonnet for the white face and a bandana for the black. The plain white or pastel bags are, by the way, fine for body parts while the prints make pretty doll clothes and novel stuffed animals.

The delightful dachshund is made from a striped feed bag and measures 17 inches from his small black nose to the tip of his pointed tail. His pattern has the hot-iron transfer designs.

The body of Pedro the Monkey is made from a flour bag in dark solid color with white sack ma-

Farmers of State Gain Over Million Through Mild Fall

Harrisburg—(P)—Good late fall weather and absence of early frosts has added more than a million dollars to the 1950 Pennsylvania farm income.

Mild fall weather brought production estimates upward substantially for corn, tobacco, grapes and potatoes.

The good weather during October added another bushel of corn to the estimated yield per acre for a total crop of 61,425,000 bushels, an increase of 1,350,000 bushels for the month of October.

The estimated production of tobacco advanced nearly 2,000,000 pounds during October, giving a crop of 61,415,000 pounds, about 2,000,000 pounds higher than 1949.

Grape production also took an upsurge, going from an estimated 20,200 tons or Oct. 1 to 23,900 tons on Nov. 1. This is one of the largest grape crops ever grown in Pennsylvania.

The Commonwealth's potato crop of 19,000,000 bushels is reported of extra good quality and the average yield of 200 bushels per acre is an all-time record.

THE RAILROAD MURDER CASE

By R. M. Laurensen

Chapter 24

MARC reached into his pocket and gingerly extracted a photograph, holding it by the edges. "What d'you make of this?"

"Now who'n thunder's that?"

"My brother," replied Marc lightly, returning the picture to the envelope.

"What's your brother got to do with it? Is he involved too?"

"No, not exactly," replied Marc, tossing the envelope on Anderson's desk. "But his picture is—perhaps, as a favor, Jerry, and just to keep the record straight, I wonder if you'd have Mr. Murphy do his dusting act on that picture. Might be some prints."

Fifteen minutes passed. Anderson stamped back into the room and waved the envelope under his nose.

"What goes on, Jordan?" he demanded. "This picture's got two sets of prints—yours and a woman's. Furthermore, the woman's check with those on the knife and on the window pane. Who is she?"

"Childish things, fingerprints."

"Yeah, but who is she?"

Marc stamped his cigarette against the end of Anderson's desk. "I'll tell you what, Jerry. I'll make a bargain with you. Promise to leave the lady strictly alone for forty-eight hours—and I'll name her. How about it?"

"Oh, nuts!" grunted Anderson, scrubbing the top of his head in complete disgust. "Okay. A hold order on the dame for forty-eight hours. Now give me your smudges. I'm none other than George Miller's girl friend—Mrs. Dorene Johnson."

Anderson was a study in arrested amazement, with glassy pop eyes, and a slack jaw.

"The lovely Dorene did quite a lot of fitting about that night. Would you be interested in the history of her expedition?"

"Don't torment me, Jordan, please!"

worked overtime in October to continue to boost egg production reverts to a new high peak.

Production during October was 20,000,000 eggs over September and totaled 258,000,000 eggs—high-est point for the month in history. The total was 30,000,000 over the October record of 1949.

The number of layers on Pennsylvania farms during October averaged 20,310,000, a record for the month.

The poultry picture was less rosy, however, on the financial side. The State Agriculture Department said farmers and poultrymen experienced the great difference in cost of production and prices received in any October since records started since 1941, except for October 1947.

Prices received for live-weight chicken and turkey on Oct. 15 were down 13 and 1 cents respectively from a month earlier. The department said feed costs declines were slight and insufficient to maintain price ratios at Sept. 15 levels.

The department added that although egg prices rose 19 cents per dozen from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15, they were still considerably below a year earlier.

CANASTA MECHANICS EXPLAINED

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

The mechanics of drawing, melding, and discarding still are bothering some canasta players so I will devote this article to that subject.

As a starter each player commences with a draw. The player always has the right to draw the top card of the stock and under certain conditions he may draw the top card of the discard pile.

If he takes the top card of the discard pile he must meld it then and there in accordance with the laws governing that play. He is privileged at this time to put down from his hand such cards as are necessary to establish his right to take and meld this card.

After having melded the top

Doll I. Q. Is Hitting New High This Year

It's beginning to look as if dolls are smarter than people.

Those in Santa's 1950 pack do practically everything that real live children do. Even the officials of the American Toy Institute are going around with a dazed look these days, as if they were afraid to believe their eyes.

Noma, the first electronic doll, sings, laughs, talks and prays in a real little-girl voice when a button on her tummy is pressed. There's nothing to wind up or plug in; the voice mechanism operates on electronic principles.

Newborn babies of the doll family are especially precocious. There's the Blessed Event doll, for instance, which frowns, smiles and kisses back when you press the button. It also can pout, suck its thumb and nurse. Another lifelike baby doll weeps big wet tears and wails lustily, just like a real live baby. The talented Dyde doll has learned to drink from a glass this year.

For fashion conscious young mothers, there's Wanda, the walking doll, dressed in an outfit designed by Sophie, the noted American couturiere, who also has turned out matching dresses for the little-girl owner. Doll and child now may walk down the street together, dressed alike.

A muskrat is no more a rat than a rabbit, yet both are rodents.

THANKSGIVING - - - 1950!

The year 1950 brought us a war we never dreamed of, in a place called Korea of which we knew little. It brought death and pain and new taxes and chafing controls—and the promise of more.

It has seen no lessening of the Communist threat which hangs over the free world. Rather has that menace grown, despite tremendous efforts on our part to reduce it. And so we find ourselves getting a bigger Army and Navy and Air Force, though "peace" has been the order of the day for a mere five years since World War II.

All the world seems beset by strife and strain. There is almost no quiet corner any more. Far-off Tibet, land of lost horizons, has tumbled off its high pedestal into the turbulent news of the day. What's next? Bali? Switzerland? Little America?

Yet it wouldn't be right to say we have nothing to be grateful for on this new Thanksgiving Day. We have much to be glad about.

Of course, our bountiful crops and thriving industry which together are lifting us to a plane of living we've never before enjoyed. Our nagging anxiety over what's in store for us tomorrow can't wholly mar the basic material satisfactions an unmatched prosperity is bringing us.

But beyond all this we can be happy that liberty is still a word with meaning for us as individuals. All the turmoil and anguish of the times have not yet robbed us of that freedom which is our greatest hope for fulfillment.

To be sure, the danger from the Red enemy has spread an uncommon fear among us. Many frightened people have been spurred to accuse others of subverting our liberties, too often on frail and non-existent evidence. By their charges they themselves have put our heritage in danger.

But essentially it is still intact. We can walk the land with heads held high. We are still free to build sound character and purpose in ourselves and our children. We are still free to think pretty much as we please, to build the kind of life we want, to work for good within our homes and beyond them. And free to vote as we think best.

We should be deeply thankful we still have these things. And we should recognize clearly that having them imposes on us a heavy responsibility. For in the wise individual uses of freedom lies the greatest assurance that freedom as a fundamental of our life shall never vanish.

ON WITH THE CHRISTMAS SHOPPING

This issue of the Times-Mirror should serve as a reminder that so far as the retail merchants of Warren are concerned, the community is all set for a gala opening of the Christmas shopping season on Friday. Seldom have local shopkeepers made more elaborate plans for Yuletide buyers, and in this connection it is interesting to note that the town will be decorated as never before. Everything is in readiness for turning on the carnival lights that have been erected at over a half dozen intersections and the committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce have been hard at work refurbishing the numerous large Christmas displays that have attracted so much attention from local residents and visitors the past two years.

Stores are well stocked at present, but predictions are made that choice selections will be picked up early. The wise shopper will waste no time getting down to the task of doing his buying.

CHRISTMAS CHEERIO!

Austerity-dieting Britons received good news the other day in an announcement from Food Minister Maurice Webb that a special Christmas week allowance of rationed foods will be granted. Six more ounces of candy, four additional ounces of cooking fat and a whole pound and a half of sugar will be added to the lean English larder. The present low reserve supply will not permit the expected addition to the skimpy meat ration, much to the housewives' dismay.

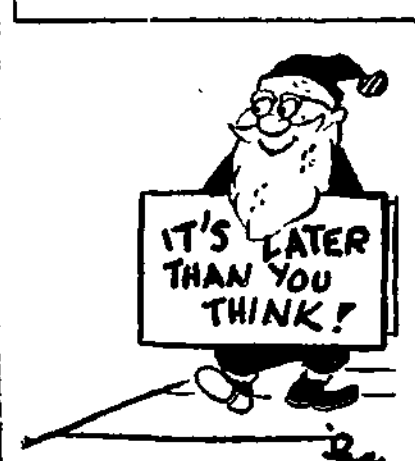

We here in America might well take note of this. Instead of complaining about the high cost of the turkey and the dressings that will decorate the table Thursday we should humbly include in our thanksgiving our fervent thanks that we are able to sit down to such a meal, with only the price to worry about.

If you can't sleep nights, lie real still and count the cobwebs in the upper corners of your bedroom.

No Foreign Birds for Us on This Thanksgiving Day!

Here And There

Writing on a subject which she entitles "Santa Claustrophobia," Cynthia Lowry, (no relation but wish we could claim her as such) Associated Press newfeature columnist, offers the following timely suggestions about early shopping:

The spirit of Yuletide is closing in. It's later than you think—haven't you seen those little notices (usually tempered by cartoons) telling you ominously that there are practically no shopping days left until Christmas

It seems to me that either the years are getting shorter or that the periods between Christmases are shrinking. It seems but yesterday when I was looking over a whole mess of Christmas wrappings and ribbons, trying to decide what I could salvage for next year.

Nowadays you scarcely have exclaimed dutifully over a pair of gloves' four sizes too small than you hear "The Postmaster General warning that the deadline for overseas Christmas packages is approaching very fast."

Personally, my annual attack of Santa Claustrophobia now has its onset in July, just when the thermometer is reaching record highs. There's always someone around who has just returned from Europe, California, Canada or some such place to announce with complacency and superiority that she found the most wonderful little out-of-the-way shoppe where she did all her Christmas shopping in about 15 minutes. This not only fractures any feelings of friendship I might have had for the person, but it starts me wondering about my own Christmas shopping. However, I do nothing more than wonder.

Personally, I have always been a stout advocate of last-minute shopping. By Christmas Eve, I always say, you are in just the right mood for shopping and it's fun to buck the crowds because most of the people have been to office-parties and are in no mood for combat.

But because Christmas now comes much sooner than it used to, I have a distinct recollection of last Christmas Eve. It was around 6 p. m. in the evening and I was running like a pursued fox from store to store trying to check off some 17 names remaining on my list.

"Next year," I said grimly, while elbowing a red-faced and determined gentleman from a vantage point at a perfume counter, "I will start my Christmas shopping really early—like day after tomorrow."

My idea was that all through the year I would pick up a little item here and a little item there—whenever I saw something that made me think of Aunt Ella or Uncle Gus.

So here it is again—practically Christmas Eve, and I haven't thought about Aunt Ella or Uncle Gus since I made the resolution. I can't imagine what would appeal to them—so I suppose Aunt Ella will get another over-size eye-dropper to baste an oven-roast and Uncle Gus, who doesn't drink, will get some new type of bar-supply as my present.

I figure it's already too late to have my Christmas cards printed, so I'll have to decide right now either to stop sending cards or sign them in my own handwriting, with a personal message.

And it looks like last-minute shopping again this year. But next year...

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Campaigns Often Cost More Than Annual Salary of Jobs

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Investigation of alleged campaign expense irregularities will lag until Dec. 7. This is the deadline, 30 days after election, by which time all candidates for national office must file final statements of campaign expenditures with Senate and House clerks. Many statements filed thus far cover only period between primaries and October 20 and are obviously incomplete. Personal expenses report ($870) of Taft's opponent, Joe Ferguson, is obviously preliminary. This does not include state and local campaign committee expenditures. Taft, whose personal expenses totaled $1529, reported his final campaign expenses as $232,088.80.

Illinois senatorial race reports of $55,000 for defeated Democrat Scott Lucas and $51,000 for winning Republican Everett Dirksen may come closer to telling the full story. But the great riddle is always why or how candidates for $15,000-a-year jobs can afford to spend three or four times that amount just to get elected.

New Korean recovery program begins to look like an UNRRA type operation. It may meet opposition in Congress for just that reason. Top agency will be UNCURE—United Nations Commission for the Unification and Rehabilitation of Korea. It will have representatives of seven nations as members. They will constitute policy makers and board of directors. Secretary will be Constantin Stavropoulos, a Greek.

Operating agency which does the work will be UNKRA—United Nations Korean Reconstruction Agency. It will be headed by an Agent General, Col. Alfred G. Katzin of South Africa, who has just left Lake Success for Korea. He will have to make a survey of requirements, get supplies moving, disperse them and report to UN General Assembly.

He will have a five-man advisory committee, one from each of the five nations that contribute the most money. U. S. officials want the reconstruction job in Korea done under the name of the United Nations, even though the old UNRRA did have its faults. UNRRA's biggest trouble came from Communist dissipation of aid for political propaganda purposes. Commies won't have a hand in UNKRA operations.

NATIONAL Production Authority's new order cutting back aluminum for civilians to 65 per cent of first six months' use may be just the first of a series of such limitation orders. NPA will soon order controls on copper, nickel and zinc. Under close scrutiny is the supply situation on cobalt, tungsten, cadmium and manganese. In short, all materials for which U. S. depends largely on imports are being watched closely. This would include principally copper and tin, to a lesser extent lead and zinc.

Steel situation is still indefinite because size of bulk of steel requirements is unknown. Rumors that only five to 10 per cent of steel capacity would be required for arms production are not confirmed by NPA Administrator William H. Harrison. He points out that requirements for steel alloys may run 20 to 25 per cent of available supply. Grandiose talk of expanding U. S. steel capacity is considered premature by Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer unless attention is first given to expanding supplies of manganese, iron ore and ore-carrying capacity.

Before Navy Secretary Francis Matthews left for his extended tour of the Pacific, he invited several newspaper men to accompany him. For some unexplained reason, however, the secretary took off in a great rush, leaving the expectant newspaper men behind. Even most of the high Navy brass was not informed on the boss's departure.

Free Separations for Britons Under Socialist Regime

London.—(P)—Thousands of Britons are lining up for the Socialist government's latest bounty—free divorces.

An uncomplicated divorce has been costing about 70 pounds ($190). It was a luxury many could not afford, and many marriages have failed along lovelessly and bitterly because the cash to dissolve them was lacking.

The government's new legal-aid program, which provides free law suits for the poor and cheap ones for persons of modest incomes, has brought a flood of inquiries from Britons wanting divorces. Court activities may have to be enlarged to deal with them.

The Lord Chancellor, Lord Jowitt, who is responsible to Parliament for the operation of the Legal Aid and Advice act, expects there will be an initial rush for divorce actions and that then they will taper off—like the scramble for free wigs and spectacles—after a piled-up demand has been met.

Lord Jowitt, distinguished legal authority, is watching the growth of the legal-aid program closely. After it had been in operation for two weeks, he dropped in at St. Clement's Inn, near the law courts, to see how the applicants were getting along. Bending over an involved application form, and making neither head nor tail to it, was twenty-four-year-old Mrs. Florence Dann, of London, who wants a divorce for desertion.

"Let me help," said the distinguished, wing-collared visitor, and it was done in a jiffy.

Only later did Mrs. Dann learn that the man who helped her is the presiding officer of the House of Lords, Privy Councillor and legal expert of world repute.

"My goodness," she exclaimed, "I certainly expect the thing is done right this time—I chewed up so many pencils over it."

The incident gave Lord Jowitt a tip as to a possible weakness in the machinery. The forms of application for free legal aid are so intricate that some persons have employed attorneys to have them completed properly. Paying to get something free seems paradoxical, so an effort will be made to simplify the business.

Legal aid is not free to all persons. The government foots all the bills for individuals earning less than three pounds ($8.40) weekly who are involved in high court actions. For those earning more, there is a sliding scale, with the state paying various proportions of the cost.

Unlike the free medical service, persons who can afford to go to law must pay their own bills, and the plan does not cover a variety of civil actions heard in county courts. Divorce is a high court affair. Regional boards of the law society, the National Professional Association of Attorneys, pass on applications and certify those qualifying for aid. No one with capital of 500 pounds ($1,400) is eligible for help in any degree under the complicated sliding-scale arrangement.

"The thought is," said the Lord Chancellor, "that people should not be prevented from exercising their legal rights because of lack of means."

Recipe For Making Holiday Cookies

SPICED PRUNE COOKIES are a good way to usher in the holiday baking season. New crop prunes are available in all markets and as an ingredient in cookie recipes they do much to give a pleasing moisture and splendid fruity flavor.

Directions for making:
One and one-half cups prunes, 1 cup brown sugar (packaged), 1 cup granulated sugar, 1 cup margarine, 5 egg yolks, 3 egg whites, 1/3 cup milk, 1 1/4 cups of sifted all purpose flour, 1 tsp. soda, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. cinnamon, 1/2 tsp. cloves, 1/2 tsp. ginger, 1 tsp. vanilla extract.

Cover prunes with boiling water and let stand covered for 15 minutes; drain, dry on a towel and cut from pits in small pieces. Now cream sugars and margarine. Add beaten egg yolks and whites and mix thoroughly. Add milk and flour sifted with soda, salt and spices, and beat well; add prunes and flavoring and mix. Drop by spoonfuls onto ungreased cookie sheet about 3 inches apart. Bake in a hot oven (400 deg. F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Frost tops with boiled icing. Makes about 3 1/2 doz. large cookies.

TO INSURE RUIN

The term "white elephant" came from the ingenious scheme of a Siamese king, who presented white elephants to persons he wished to ruin. Since the animals were sacred, they could not be disposed of, and their upkeep eventually led to bankruptcy of the owner.

Furs For Every Woman At Unusually Low Prices

GALE DUGAS,
NEA Staff Writer

There's no getting away from the fact that the "good little mink" Christmas are in the minor. The great majority, therefore, didn't get left out in the cold. They needn't be, since there are furs for every woman this year whose prices are lower than you think.

From a large collection of furs, hats, bags, flowers, tiaras, scarves, belts, shoes, bracelets, slippers, the man who has for a living can pick. He can, for instance, spend a very tiny sum and for it, get a mink whimsy in the form of a necklet with flower buds, designed by Van Syl.

Or, he might spend a bit more and buy, for the woman in his life, Esther Dorothy's exaggerated petalscarf in silverblue mink. This, incidentally, is a fur scarf ideally suited to the small woman.

A third of the many possibilities is a long, thick rope of white ermine, designed by Esther Dorothy to fulfill every woman's dream of owning ermine. It's to be worn in many ways. It loops into a choker and strand. Like a string of 1825 pearls, and looped thus, can be worn front or back. It forms a double loop about the shoulders, providing a lovely frame for a strapless dress. Its tricks are endless.

But if a man's fancy doesn't run to furs, he might like to give one of Brooke Cadwallader's fancy hostess aprons. There is, for one, an apron in silk tulle called "F. O. B. Detroit" which recalls the days of the first gasoline buggies in authentic four-color pictures on a white ground. Another possible choice is an apron done by this same designer, in imported Swiss organdy, portraying huge pink shadow on black-veiled marble.

Glitter glass, in the form of handsome costume jewelry, is attractive to any woman. Pearls and steel gray beads are combined by Majeska in a new lyre necklace which has matching cluster earrings in grey, tipped with white seed pearls.

Another Majeska design combines pearls, jet beads and rhinestone rondelles in a flat, seven-strand collar. There are matching chandelier earrings and a wide, spectacular bracelet which is like a deep cuff.

Fur Price War Has Eskimo Trappers
Trapped In Middle

Anchorage, Alaska—(P)—Joe Noogachik, Big Wassilie and Wassilie Snowball are in for a tough time on the traplines this winter. With scores of other Eskimo trappers in western Alaska, they have found themselves right in the middle of a fight among fur buyers.

The trouble stems from a price war between traders and fur buyers living in the wilderness and big mail order firms "outside" which are paying more for furs and are buying them sight unseen. It's still too early to tell who is winning, but Wassilie Snowball and his friends will have to pay in pelts no matter what the outcome.

Until a few years ago, things were more or less serene. In the summer, the Eskimo trappers fished for a living or worked in canneries for their groceries.

Come winter time, they went to the white trader at Bethel or Dillingham or Holy Cross and bought some new traps. If they didn't have the money the trader would grubstake them, giving them supplies on credit and counting on a good trapping season to bring in a profit.

"Why, I've got $37,000 in credit on my books," a Dillingham trader lamented the other day. "With mail order houses offering more money for the furs than I can afford to pay, I'm going broke."

In the good old days (before mail orders) the trappers thronged to little villages like Ugashik, Akiak and Bethel with their furs. There they went from one trader to another.

Wassilie Snowball would unpack his bundle of beaver and other pelts and say "how much?" the trader would make a face, look down his nose at the furs and murmur "two hundred dollars."

"Umph," Snowball would reply, and go to the next fur buyer down the street.

If the second fur buyer could offer $10 more the sale was closed. Wassilie took his cash, paid off the trader who had grubstaked him and went home to his squaw.

"It was a fine old competitive spirit," according to C. E. Reed, who operated a store at Dillingham.

Now things have changed. Many Eskimos have begun mailing their furs to the big mail-order companies in the states. Airmail being what it is, they soon have their checks in hand.

Bookkeeping Chore Starts January 1
For Housewives Who Employ a Servant

"Do you have a maid?" Not so very many households these days can answer yes but those who do have a maid or any other household worker will read with interest a copy of a brief booklet bearing that question as a title.

Bernard A. Farabaugh, manager of the Erie Social Security office, began distributing this booklet today. This colorful leaflet sets out, in a few sentences, just how the lady of the house, or any employer of domestic help in or around the home, may tell whether or not the worker is brought under the new Social Security Law which becomes effective on Jan. 1, 1951.

The work of those regularly employed in private homes will be credited to social security and the employer will be responsible for reporting wages, along with social security taxes, to the collector of internal revenue.

The title of the pamphlet does not stop with "Do You Have a Maid?" but continues "—or a laundress? —a cook? —chauffeur? —gardener?" Any of these, or any other persons employed regularly for work in or around a private household may come under the new law, and Farabaugh urges their employers to request a free copy of the booklet.

A simple test in the booklet in terms of amounts of wages paid and regularity of employment, will tell whether a maid or cook or laundress will get the protection of social security—and whether the housewife should start making reports next year, if so, there's a postage-paid postal card in the government-issued booklet which the housewife should mail in for instructions.

Copies of the booklet are available at all post offices, or may be secured at offices of the collector of internal revenue. "If you'll just drop us a post card, asking for the booklet, 'Do You Have a Maid?' we'll send it to you by return mail," Farabaugh said. Address of the office is Social Security Administration, 909 G. Daniel Baldwin Building, Erie.

The Social Security manager said he is arranging with women's groups to furnish supplies of the booklet for their members.

For the domestic worker's own information about her new social security protection, a special leaflet is available at the Social Security office. Farabaugh pointed out that regularly employed domestic workers will need a social security account number card after Jan. 1, 1951.

The "Do You Have a Maid?" booklet does not apply to domestic work on farms operated for profit. Such work is covered by other provisions in the new Social Security law.

Thanksgiving
Proclamation

Governor James H. Duff, in proclaiming November 23, as Thanksgiving Day, called on Pennsylvanians to observe the day with "grateful remembrances of the blessings that the citizens of this great state are privileged to enjoy."

The governor noted that Thanksgiving is "not now and never has been a day of mere self-satisfaction, untempered by concern for the less fortunate in our midst and for the distressed of other lands."

"More than any other national holiday, Thanksgiving has come to express the deepest sentiment of all Americans, a profound gratitude for opportunities and the personal and political liberties which all of us enjoy and for the abundance so widely realized here in our state and nation."

YULE SYMBOLS

It is said that the symbol of Santa Claus originated in Holland, the Christmas tree in Germany, Christmas shoes (stockings) in Belgium and Christmas cards and the "Merry Christmas" greeting in England. Americans have contributed the turkey dinner and the poinsettia as a decoration because it blazes into the Christmas color scheme.

PETRIFIED TREES

Some of the marble-hard logs in the petrified forest of north-eastern Arizona are 250 feet in length. The forest contains thousands of acres of petrified prehistoric trees strewn over the ground.

Carbon dioxide gas, from which dry ice is made, is produced by several deep wells in New Mexico.

Teen-Age Gifts-To-Make May Solve Problems

ANNE LARSEN,
NEA Staff Writer

If there are more names on your holiday list than dollars in your Christmas savings, these teen-age gifts-to-make may help solve your problem.

Almost any young miss would be delighted with an evening stole of velvet edged with silk fringe. If you have never sewed before, turn to your local sewing center for assistance.

To make this glamor wrap, cut both velvet and lining fabric into lengths 27 by 40 inches, then stitch them together allowing half-inch seams all around. Trim each end with fringes.

With a standard slipper pattern about a yard of satin and a pair of soles you can turn out slippers for a queen's boudoir. They are particularly attractive when a contrasting color is used for the lining. For this effect use a half-yard of each shade of satin. Finish them off with round pearl buttons.

Have You Queer Aches and Pains?

The kidneys filter waste matter out of your blood. When they become clogged the poison gets into your system and you have mysterious aches and pains, especially backache. Help your kidneys clean out this waste matter and excess acid with Bor-soma Tablets. Notice how quickly you feel better. Demand genuine Bor-soma Tablets 60c at all drug stores. Adv.

at the instep, for a final provocative touch.

Another gift with sure-fire appeal is a dress-up belt combining velvet and glitter, both fashion's pets this year. To make such a belt, cut the velvet on the lengthwise grain of the fabric.

Length should be waistline measurement plus seven inches for lap-over. The width should be twice what you desire for the finished belt plus seam allowance.

Fold the strip together and stitch the edges on the wrong side. Shape one end to a point. Leave the other open. After pressing seams open turn the belt right-side-out and press again. Use an ironing cloth, to avoid slicking the velvet.

Add a buckle, and a sparkling design of glitter buttons, and the job is done. If the belt is a wide one use buckram for stiffening.

A more tailored belt, with a matching bag can be made with a standard pattern from a yard of corduroy and a yard of lining fabric such as satin.

Matching corduroy-covered buckles are used as novel decoration for this twosome. If buckle-covering is beyond your talents turn this part of the job over to your local sewing center.

Washable wool plaid is the fabric used for a taitan beret and purse set which should set any young girl to dancing a highland fling on Christmas morning. The purse is made from a straight length of material and can be cut to the shape and size desired. Buckram, for stiffening, should be basted to the wrong side of the plaid, and then rayon lining hand-stitched on top of that. One machine-stitching around the edge will secure both.

This oblong of fabric assumes the shape of a handbag when it is divided into thirds and folded over. The lower third is joined at the sides to the center section, the top section turns down to form the flap of the purse.

The beret is made by cutting two circles from the washable wool plaid. The circumference usually preferred is about 25 inches.

The first circle is stiffened with buckram and lined with rayon. From the middle of the second circle, a round center piece is cut away to fit the desired head size. This piece, which is called a gusset, is also stiffened and lined.

The two circles are then sewed together to make the beret, and the head opening is finished off with a plain fabric band.

Note: To obtain patterns for the slippers (pattern No. 5691) or corduroy belt and bag (pattern No. 5771), send 2 cents in coins, your name, address and correct pattern number to Anne Cabot, Warren Times-Mirror, 1150 Avenue of the Americas, New York 19, N. Y.
